A Christmas candle is a lovely thing; It makes no noise at all but softly gives itself away; while quite unselfish, it grows small.

The holiday season of every year gives you a great opportunity to look back and celebrate your accomplishments. It's time to take stock of your year and count all your blessings. May you have a great Holiday season and an amazing 2020.

Craig Wilson
Vice President
External Affairs
Public Information Officer (PIO)

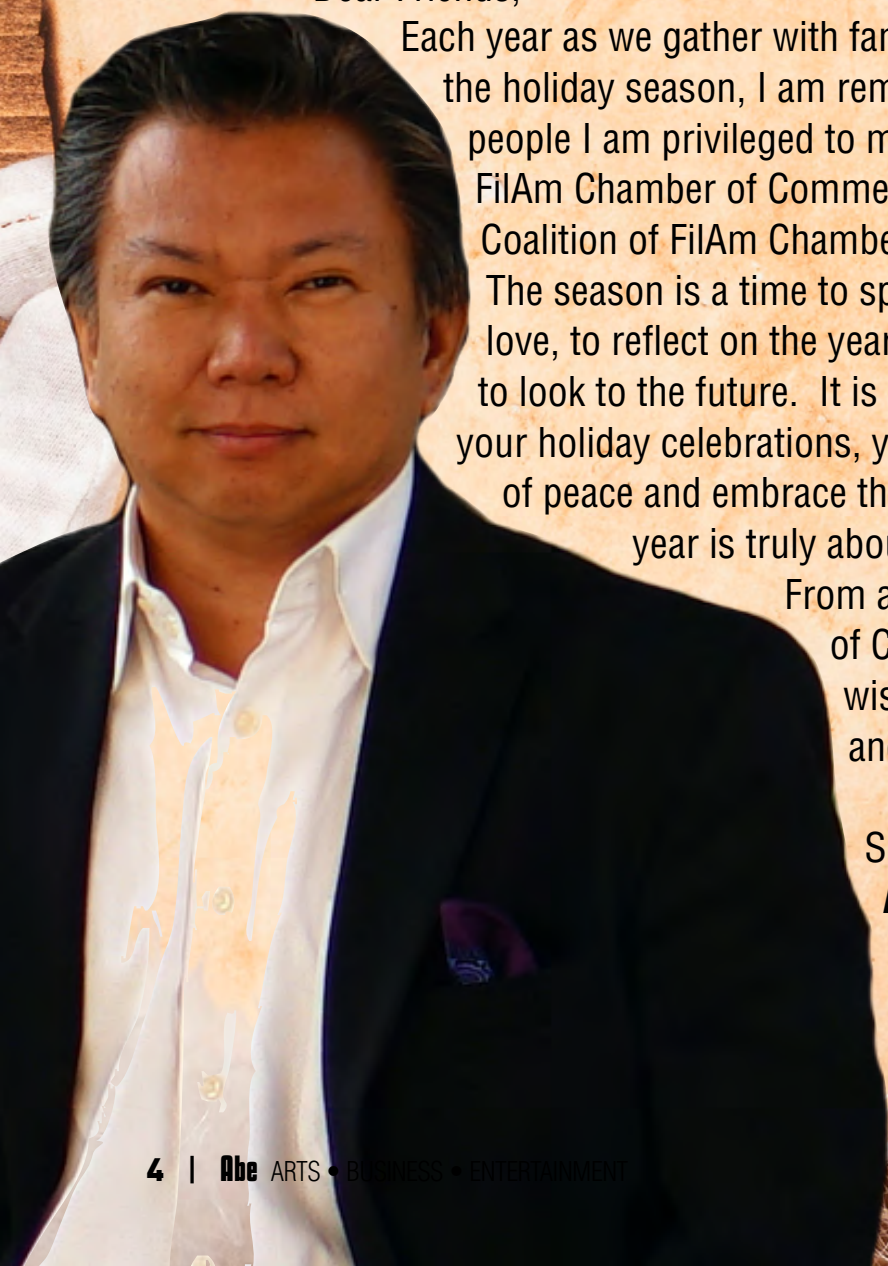

Dear Friends,

Each year as we gather with family and friends to celebrate the holiday season, I am reminded of the extraordinary people I am privileged to meet through the work of the FilAm Chamber of Commerce of Hollywood and the Coalition of FilAm Chamber of Commerce.

The season is a time to spend with the people you love, to reflect on the year that's winding down and to look to the future. It is my wish that in the midst of your holiday celebrations, you can find a few moments of peace and embrace the spirit of what this time of year is truly about.

From all of us at the FilAm Chamber of Commerce of Hollywood, we wish you a joyful holiday season and a very Happy New Year.

Successfully,
Paul Mirador
President
FilAm Chamber of Commerce of Hollywood

This is the 2nd Christmas I am going to spend without my mom. I still can't believe she is gone, but I have my blog wordsbyirene.com to pour out all my messages for her and more. More stories and poetry about LGBTQ, relationships, immigrants, our homeland Philippines, family and random things. I am grateful I survived this year but more so because there are glimpses of good things to look forward to next year. Like the launching of my book and my song.

May all of you feel the spirit of Christmas.

On Saturday, June 29, the Filipino American Chamber of Commerce of Hollywood (FACCHO) hosted the 6th Annual Filipino Hollywood Actors Panel held at the Secret Rose Theatre in the NoHo Arts District, north of the City of Los Angeles in the San Fernando Valley.

Created in 1998 and produced by our Vice President, Edwin A. Santos starting in 2015, his previous special guest panelists were Vincent Rodriguez III (“Crazy Ex-Girlfriend,” “Insatiable”), Manny Jacinto (“The Good Place,” “Top Gun: Maverick”), Nico Santos (“Crazy Rich Asians,” “Superstore”), Ginger Gonzaga (“Ted,” “Togetherness,” “Mixology,” “Kidding”), Angela Relucio (“Code Black,” “Six”), Reggie Lee (“All Rise,” “Grimm,” “The Fast & The Furious,”), Aina Dumlaog (“MacGyver,” “Ballers”), Tess Paras (“Just Add Magic,” “Crazy Ex-Girlfriend,” “Grimm”), Bernardo Bernardo (“City After Dark,” “Invisible”), Ruben Maria Soriquez (“Dolce Amore,” “Of Sinners and Saints”), Eugene Cordero (“Tacoma FD,” “Kong: Skull Island”), Jon Jon Briones (“The Assassination of Gianni Versace: American Crime Story”) and Ellen D. Williams (“Baskets,” “How I Met Your Mother”) as well as casting directors, talent agents and talent managers; all who represent the craft and business of acting across the board while shining a spotlight towards Filipino American actors.

This year's actors panel discussion, Q&A and networking featured 2019's Special Guest Panelists Rodney To ("Barry," "Parks & Recreation," etc.), Jason Rogel ("Rim Of The World," "This Is Us," etc.), Joy Regullano ("Crazy Ex-Girlfriend," "Supernatural," etc.) and JB Tadena ("SEAL Team," "Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D.," etc.) with our FACCHO Board of Director in Public Relations, Annie Nepumeceno as this year's host and moderator.

The event is devoted specifically towards Filipino American actors in addition to providing useful information to aspiring actors overall. Since the 2010 Census, there are four million Filipinos in the United States. The second largest ethnic group. However, Filipinos are under-represented in film and television today. Representation matters. And, media should reflect society. Why is this not the case?

The panelists engaged on such topics as how they got started in the business, the craft of acting, Filipino representation in Hollywood, improv, self-producing, just to name a few.

More informational and personal exchanges took place during the audience Q&A and afterwards, the one-on-one networking that closed the two hour productive event.

Many in the audience were appreciative of the program and were interested in joining FACCHO. One audience member offered to our panelists complimentary service to create new websites for them. Another audience member, a former actress who was shy on how to network was introduced to Joy Regullano thanks to FACCHO Secretary Tiffany Porter.

Our four Special Guest Panelists also shared their sentiments on social media about this year's Filipino Hollywood Actors Panel. "What a blast it was to share this event with this great group of artists! Thank you Filipino American Chamber of Commerce of Hollywood for having me!" said Rodney To.

"SO happy to share this experience with you all!" "Thank you for having me!!!!" added Jason Rogel. "This was a lot of fun. Met lots of cool people and was seriously honored to sit up there with that talent, Rodney, Jason and Joy. Thanks FACCHO." said JB Tadena.

Regullano. Almost every Filipino Hollywood Actors Panel, there is always a surprise of who shows up.

For example, in 2018, a day before its 5th Edition, a woman with her daughter flew from Michigan to Los Angeles to attend, and met guest panelist Reggie Lee. This year, a family travelling from the Philippines made a planned stopover to Los Angeles as part of their summer vacation travels, and was invited by our FACCHO Board of Director Katherine Bercasio to attend the 6th Edition. Most vacationers who visit Los Angeles go to the obvious tourist attractions. This nice family learned more about Hollywood at the actors panel. They also joined the FACCHO Board of Directors for «Golden Girls» television writer David Goodman was re-elected as the Writers Guild of America (WGA) West's President.

His re-election sends a strong message of support for the union's battle against major talent agencies because the latter would not agree to end their practice of packaging talent to studios and dabbling in their own productions. Back in April, he directed WGA union members to fire their talent agents. He has since refused to negotiate with the agencies unless they drop the use of packaging fees and affiliate production.

San Diego Comic Con 2019 Roundup

It was the 50th Anniversary of the San Diego Comic Con (SDCC) five day event from July 18 - 22, 2019 where fans, collectors, binge watchers, smarks, Bible thumpers, consumers and Hollywood professionals convene every year for the sights and sounds of nerd-tastic nerd-om.

With the announcement of Marvel's Shang-Chi set to make his live-action debut in the upcoming film "Shang-Chi and the Legend of the Ten Rings" within the Marvel Cinematic Universe, the news has been celebrated in many nerd-oms everywhere -- especially Asian Americans who have read his journey since 1973 as well to new fans when he appeared in Greg Pak's "War Of The Realms" comic book event. Shortly after that, he joined the New Agents of Atlas in 2019. The team made up of Asian and Asian American superheroes including Marvel's first Filipina superhero, Wave.

More on her later.

Southeast Asians including Filipino Americans have announced feature film projects before and during SDCC.

Filipinos are going where no Filipino has gone before. On Saturday, July 20 inside the always packed Hall H, the Star Trek Panel covered both CBS' "Star Trek: Discovery" (2017-present) where CHARLES COLLYER is the Lead VFX Artist. He won an Emmy for Outstanding Special Visual Effects for the Season 2 Finale episode, 'Such Sweet Sorrow, Part 2'.

And of, course the already announced Sir Patrick Stewart's return as Jean-Luc Picard in "Star Trek: Picard" (2020) with ISA BRIONES (last seen in FX's "The Assassination of Gianni Versace: American Crime Story") in a recurring role as Dahj.

Joining her on the panel were the rest of the cast of "Star Trek: Picard" including Brent Spiner who starred as Lt. Cmdr. Data on "Star Trek: The Next Generation" (1987-1994) and its subsequent motion pictures, Jonathan Del Arco who guest starred as Hugh, formerly Third of Five, a former young Borg drone who was rescued by Picard and rejoined the Borg Collective to influence them a sense of individuality and self in an episode of “Star Trek: The Next Generation,” and Jeri Ryan who starred as Seven of Nine, also a former Borg drone who joined the crew of the Federation vessel, USS Voyager lost in the Gamma Quadrant in “Star Trek: Voyager” (1995-2001) to regain her human existence.

Also announced during their Comic Con panel, CBS All Access revealed the “Star Trek: Lower Decks” cast and first look images from the animated sci-fi series. EUGENE CORDERO (“Tacoma FD,” “Kong: Skull Island”) will be voicing ‘Ensign Rutherford.’ It takes place after “Star Trek: Nemesis” (2002), the feature film that starred the bridge crew of “Star Trek: The Next Generation” with Patrick Stewart. It was the tenth film in the Star Trek motion picture series, as well as the fourth and final film to star the cast of TNG. “Star Trek: Lower Decks” will begin streaming at zombie action picture is set amid an outbreak in Las Vegas where a man assembles a group of mercenaries to gamble their lives and pull off the greatest heist ever.

Meanwhile, director James Gunn announced there will be a "Guardians Of The Galaxy, Volume 3," but he is currently finishing up the DC Comics property, "The Suicide Squad" for a 2021 theatrical release. That is the sequel to 2016's "Suicide Squad" that starred Margot Robbie as Harley Quinn, and she will be returning in the sequel along with part-time WWE professional wrestler John Cena.

ELLA JAY BASCO is currently filming as Cassandra Cain (a.k.a. the fourth Batgirl) in the upcoming "Birds Of Prey (And The Fantabulous Emancipation Of One Harley Quinn)" directed by Cathy Yan and starring Margot Robbie reprising her role as Harley Quinn from 2016's "Suicide Squad." Set to be released by Warner Brothers Studios on February 7, 2020, the film also stars Mary Elizabeth Winstead as Huntress, Jurnee Smollett-Bell as Black Canary and Ewan McGregor as Black Mask. A far cry from the first Batgirl who is Barbara Gordon, daughter of Gotham City Police Commissioner James Gordon on the 1966 television movie and its episodic TV series "Batman" (1966-1968) played by the late Yvonne Craig and, in the Joel Schumaker film, "Batman & Robin" (1997) played by Alicia Silverstone. In DC Comics lore, Basco's Batgirl is Cassandra Cain, the daughter of assassins David Cain and Sandra Wu-Cain (best known as Lady Shiva).

Isa Briones As Dahj on Star Trek Picard

Deprived of speech and human contact during her childhood as conditioning, Cassandra Cain becomes the world's greatest assassin and later as bodyguard for Ra's Al Ghul. After saving Commissioner Gordon's life, she is given the Batgirl costume with the approval from both Batman and Barbara Gordon, now Oracle who becomes her ward. Academy Award nominated cinematographer MATTHEW LIBATIQUE, ASC ("Venom," "A Star Is Born") along with stunt and fight coordinators JONATHAN EUSEBIO and JON VALERA ("Black Panther," "John Wick") are the other Filipinos working on the film.

Lastly, California's award-winning science fiction, fantasy, horror author and writer ALYSSA WONG (whose mother is Filipina) will co-write along with Greg Pak, the origin story of Marvel Comics' first Filipina superhero of Cebu, Philippines named Wave (aka Pearl Pangan). The news was announced at Racebending's Super Asian America Panel on the last day (Sunday, July 21) of SDCC. Her stories have won the Nebula Award, the World Fantasy Award, and the Locus Award. And, she was a finalist for the John W. Campbell Award for Best New Writer. Her fiction has been shortlisted for the Hugo, Bram Stoker, and Shirley Jackson Awards. Wave made her debut in the comic book, "War of the Realms: New Agents of Atlas #1" and subsequent issues afterwards.

If Shang-Chi is Marvel Studios' first Asian American comic book superhero to be seen in a live Phase 4 action movie for generations to come, then it should be a no brainer for a live action movie of the New Agents of Atlas with Wave. 🌟
